

Corey Warner
cwarner@ncsd.k12.mo.us
7019

Corey Warner is our new Graphic Arts Instructor. He lives in Farmington with his wife Abril and cat Boyd.

"This will be my first experience teaching graphic design. I have worked in the design/photography industry professionally and freelance for 15 years. Some of my places of employment as a designer have been Cap America, Graphic Options, Midwest Light & Sign, and Farmington Signs. I have also worked freelance with some apparel companies and music groups. For a time I had my own Design and Photography shop, Studio 222, in Fredericktown.

Though I did it as a profession, photography is a hobby that is always going on in my life regardless of what I'm up to. My wife and I enjoy experiencing the outdoors and travel as much as we can.

I am interested in almost everything if we're being honest. I enjoy a wide spectrum of film and music. I am also fascinated by subjects such as ancient history, cosmology, and anthropology."